DAILY GAZETTE.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Shoot your straw hat.

—Texas raised 800,000 bales of cotton this year.

—Break the news from Vermont gently to Sam.

—The gamblers are enjoying the bracing air of Long Branch. They dress in checks.

—Republicans hereabouts were happy in studying the returns from the Green Mountain State.

—Mr. Childs is to give a garden party at Long Branch, at which the Great Father will be present.

—"We find that he came to his death from calling Bill Jackson a liar," was the verdict of a coroner's jury in Missouri.

—Mrs. Governor Hayes has returned to Columbus after a brief visit to the Centennial, and nobody knew that she was there.

—The man who knows we're going to have a cold winter has made his appearance. Won't the coal dealers put a reward on his head?

—The first bond issued of the new 4½ per cents was bought by Senator Robertson, of South Carolina. It was a $5,000, and for it he paid $5,037.50 in gold.

—The present cool weather is having its effect on Saratoga and Newport, and dispatches from there announce that the season is practically at an end.

—The youthful ruralist now crawls through cornfields to catch a glimpse of a watermelon patch by moonlight. Such is his love for the beautiful in nature.

—It seems probable now that the Old South Church will be preserved. If so, it will stand as a lasting monument to the avarice of a Boston Congregational Society.

—The air of Newport is said to be heavily charged with social electricity. The air in question belongs neither to the 'ead nor the hatmosphere, but has reference exclusively to heirs and heiresses.

—The King and Crown Prince of Sweden would have been killed the other day if they had not jumped out of the carriage, which was thrown over a few minutes later by their runaway horses.

—"Live within your income," says Mr. Tilden, reformer. "How much is your income?" asked the assessor. "S'help me," says Mr. Tilden, raising his right hand, "I never had any income."

—Potatoes are going up in price. Sons of Erin, remember, when you go to vote, that the Republican party has formed an alliance with the potato bug and the heathen Chinee to put up the price.

—Let all who need such a wise example conside the ways of several mechanics out of employment in Ashburnham, Mass. One is laboring for a neighbor digging muck and picking berries. Another catches half a bushel of fish a day and salts them for the winter. This is certainly better than hiring a hall and making speeches.

—A marked falling off in the number of immigrants arriving at New York is apparent. In the first six months of 1875 the number reached 56,414, while for the corresponding months of this year it has been only 44,039. Local causes have to some extent effected this result, but the business depression everywhere has also had an important influence.

—Lucy Stone writes, in the Woman's Journal, that the quarrel in the Hawthorne family has arisen without sufficient cause. It appears that young Mr. Lathrop, while insisting upon his right to use the private papers of his father-in-law, did not, as a matter of fact, use them, but made up his "study" from sources accessible to all the world.

—The New York Herald thinks this is a "sleepy campaign." "There are no log cabin and hard cider meetings, no Wide Awake or Little Giant processions—nothing, in fact, to indicate that two great parties are engaged in a struggle for the enormous patronage and tempting pickings of the national government for the next four years. And the reason for the heaviness of the campaign may be found in the fact that politicians have learned the value of concentrating their efforts on practical work at the polls, and are disinclined to waste them on blue fire displays. Money that used to be expended on torchlights and fireworks is now shrewdly put where it will do the most good."

—The yellow fever has probably been introduced in Savannah through a failure to enforce a sufficiently strict quarantine. Scarcely a summer passes during which vessels infected do not arrive at the Atlantic ports from the West Indies, but with proper quarantine arrangements it is always possible to prevent the disease being communicated to the city, and we must attribute its reaching Savannah to the cause mentioned. Although the reports from there are discouraging, there is no reason to fear a general contagion. The cool weather approaching is the greatest enemy of Yellow Jack, and the season of the year is past in which there is danger of its spreading.

—The news from Fall River is certainly cheering, for it betokens that revivification in business which we have been waiting for so long. If the market remains as firm on October 1st as it is now the manufacturers will restore half of the cut down in wages that was recently made. All the indications point to a healthy revival in business. We have undoubtedly reached the lowest point, and will now begin to ascend. Merchants in all lines of trade express this confidence, and say that business is picking up in quite a promising manner. Such a picking up, though, would have been very disconcerting a few years ago, but now it is regarded as an omen of better times.

—A reporter who has been coming around among the tailors finds that "nimble sixpence are now regarded by the tailors as more profitable than slow shillings. Prices, forced down by inexorable necessity, are gradually coming within reach of ordinary purses. The clothiers who obstinately hold out against the demand for goods of American manufacture, deluding themselves with the belief that customers will continue to pay high prices for imported fabrics, will find themselves in peril of bankruptcy if they don't read the signs of the times more clearly. When a good Fall or Winter suit of clothing can be obtained from reputable dealers for one-third less than the fancy prices demanded elsewhere, the buyer is not likely to throw away his money. Economy is the new fashion—and a very good fashion, too.

—A correspondent says "the author of the "Heathen Chinee" is very much annoyed that his very ordinary but popular poem has made him much better known to the general public than all his works combined; particularly does he exhibit much vexation when a person just introduced to him remarks that he is "happy to meet the author of the 'Heathen Chinee.'" These verses, according to the correspondent, were thrown off one day in the Overland editorial room without any idea of publication. The author attached no importance to them, and they remained for several months in his drawer, when, in making up the Monthly one day, a poem of about that length was needed, and Harte, having nothing else on hand, decided, though not without serious misgivings, to put it in."

—Gas vs. oil is the question that now agitates the Common Council of Chicago. The population of that city has increased three-fold during the past ten years, and the municipal gas bills have increased ten-fold—a disparity which stimulates taxpayers and Aldermen to put on their thinking-caps. The gas companies received $585,000 from the city last year, against $287,000 five years ago, and the increase pulls upon the people's pocket. According to an elaborate statistical statement, just published semi-officially, the present cost of street lighting is $57 per lamp, while oil is offered to the corporationfon for $25 per lamp for the first year and $20 for the second—equivalent to a saving on ten thousand lamps of more than $300,000 per year, or enough to pay the interest on the cost of the Court House.

—A correspondent writes from Paris that a well-dressed gentleman of sixty, evidently a man of wealth, drives out every afternoon to the lake on the Bois de Boulogne in a fine Victoria, followed by a carriage laden with cooking utensils. Selecting a cool spot under the trees he stops his carriage, has a rich damask table-cloth spread upon the grass, and servants in livery place a profusion of silver upon it. The service is of the richest sort. The lackeys sit up under another tree and serve this sybarite a most sumptuous repast with iced champagne and everything to be found in the grandest of dinners. He sits there in his dress-coat and white cravat as if in his salon, unmindful of the hundreds of eyes that gaze curiously upon him. When the dinner is over he retires to another tree, as if to the smoking-room, where cigars and coffee are brought him. Meanwhile the servants pack up the silver. When the cigar is finished, the eccentric diner-out gets into his Victoria, without looking at the crowd, takes his rides about the lake, and then drives off home. Since the fact became public talk, people are going out to the Bois expressly to see this singular person dine in the open air.

The Chicago Exposition.

CHICAGO, September 6.—The Fourth Annual Inter-State Industrial Exposition was opened to-night with an immense crowd, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather. The elegance, variety and extraordinary merit of the "exhibits" attracted universal comment. The departments of science and education are full and complete. The "Loan" collection of paintings, 700 in number, worth three quarters of a million dollars, has never been equaled in the West. Not less than 25,000 persons were present to-night.

NEWS FROM ABROAD.

Gladstone's Pamphlet on the Bulgarian Horrors.

A BATTLE BETWEEN TURKS AND MONTENEGRINS.

A Russo-Turkish War Among the Possibilities.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, September 6.—Several trade failures in the provinces are announced today, with liabilities aggregating about one million dollars.

Gladstone, in his pamphlet on "Bulgarian Horrors and the Question of the East," says: "It is urgent, in addition to the termination of the war, first, to put an end to anarchical misrule, plundering and murdering which still desolate Bulgaria. Second—To make effectual provision against its occurrence by excluding the Ottoman Government from the administration and control, not only in Bosnia and Herzegovina, but, above all, in Bulgaria. Third—To redeem by these measures the honor of the British name, which, in the deplorable events of years, has been more gravely compromised than I have known it in any former period."

Gladstone says he is still desirous to see the territorial integrity of Turkey upheld, though that desire should not be treated as paramount to the higher objects of policy. As an old servant of the crown and State, he entreats his countrymen to require and insist that the Government, which has been working in one direction, shall work in the other, and shall apply all its vigor to concur with the other States of Europe in obtaining the extinction of the Turkish executive power in Bulgaria.

Gladstone concludes with an appeal for an organized collection and distribution of relief to the Bulgarians.

Lord Derby has written a letter, saying no efforts will be spared by her Majesty's Government to ascertain the exact truth as regards the occurrences in Bulgaria, and it will be ready, in common with other powers, to take such action upon them as the justice of the case may require.

LONDON, September 6.—A new tunnel for an underground railway in process of construction in Bishop's Gate street caved in this afternoon. Four or five workmen were exhumed and taken to the hospital.

TURKEY.

BELGRADE, September 6.—The Minister of War has not had word from General Tchernayeff for two days. The Turks are reported as marching on Kragujevatz, where there are important Government works. They are also between Alexinatz and Deligrad. Both sides claim a victory in an engagement between the Turks and the army of Yavar.

The Montenegrins fiercely attacked Moukhtar Pacha yesterday, but with what result is not known.

LONDON, September 6.—A dispatch from Semlin announces that the Turks have occupied Alexinatz.

LONDON, September 6.—The Standard's correspondent at Berlin says since the declination of Turkey to grant an armistice, an outbreak of a Russian and Turkish war is deemed in well informed circles unavoidable.

The Standard's correspondent at Nissa makes a surprising statement, that a large number of Bulgarians of all classes are joining the Turkish army. They are represented as showing much feeling against the Servians, because the latter have brought mischief on them.

A dispatch from Constantinople to the Daily Telegraph says that the British Government has made strong representations to Turkey through her Ambassador that if the war continues the Turks must be prepared to see Russia openly giving support to Servia.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, September 6.—Since the declaration that England would not support Turkey against Russian interference, Austria is looked upon in Constantinople as the power to oppose Russia, and consequently the Austrian Ambassador now occupies an exceptional position of power, which the British Ambassador recently held. The Turks are by no means discouraged, and have great faith in their own military power. Turkey, through her Ambassadors at European courts, has decidedly refused to grant an armistice, but expresses a willingness to treat for peace.

ITALY.

ROME, September 6.—La Liberta says the Italian Minister of War, foreseeing fresh complications in the East, intends to recall officers and men on furlough.

In the discussion the general opinion favored a higher course of study and stricter examination for admission to the bar.

A paper on "Municipal debts" read by Daniel L. Harris elicited discussion by Messrs. Bradford and Derby, of Boston, the latter questioning the inferences of Mr. Harris that the cities of Massachusetts will soon become bankrupt if they do not stop incurring debt.

D. B. Eaton's paper on an "Elective Judiciary," read in the evening, attracted a large and attentive audience, while there was also a good audience to listen to a paper of Geo. T. Angell on the "Prevention of Crime" read in another place.

LOUIS, September 6.—At ten o'clock last night, as the eastward bound train on the St. Louis, Kansas City & Northern railroad reached Salisburg, one hundred and seventy miles from St. Louis, it encountered a wash-out, caused by a heavy rain, and all passenger coaches were ditched. SECOND EDITION

THE VERMONT VICTORY.

186 Towns Heard From.

Fairbanks' Majority for Governor Nearly 25,000—A Republican Gain of Nearly 4,000 Over 1874.

BOSTON, September 9.—One hundred and sixty-eight towns of Vermont give Fairbanks 37,598 votes, and Bingham 17,566. The same towns in 1874 gave Peck 27,342 and Bingham 11,247 a Republican gain of 3,837.

First district—sixty-five towns give Joyce 11,715, Childs 6,125. Second district—fifty-nine towns, give Dennison 11,533 and Dickey 4,490. Third district—forty-eight towns give Hendee 9,390 and Edwards 4,387. Fifty-five towns not heard from gave Peck in 1874 6,240 and Bingham 2,111—Peck's majority 4,129. The returns in this election in the same towns will be comparatively about the same. This would give the Republican majority on the Gubernational vote 24,161—a gain of 3,858 over 1874. The town representatives elected are 163 Republicans, 17 Democrats and no choice one. Sixty-nine towns are not heard from on the Congressional vote. Sixty towns are lacking on the town representative vote.

The Massachusetts Democracy.

WORCESTER, September 6.—The Democratic State Convention met to-day. Wm. Wirt Warren was made Chairman. After a recess Charles Francis Adams was nominated for Governor by acclamation. The ticket was completed as follows: For Lieutenant Governor, Wm. R. Plunkett; Secretary of State, Edwin H. Lathrop; Treasurer, Weston Howland; Auditor, John E. Fitzgerald; Attorney General, Richard Olney. Ex-Governor Gaston heads the electoral ticket.

The resolutions adopted hail with satisfaction the action of the late National Convention at St. Louis; demand payment in coin of the debt represented by legal tenders, as well as the bonded debt; denounce the Republican party for neglecting to carry out the financial policy for the resumption of specie payments, and ask the people to entrust to the Democratic party the accomplishment of this vital need of our commerce; express gratitude to the National House of Representatives for its efforts to reduce expenses, and its resolute inquiries into official maladministration; rejoice in the social order, rapidly reviving prosperity, and established cordial relations between the races in the South wherever Democratic rule prevails; denounce the Republican party for mismanagement of the affairs of the Freedman's Bank, and desire it to be the duty of Congress to secure to the sufferers indemnity for their losses. The depression in trade and commerce is attributed to misgovernment of the Republican party, and the resolutions finally demand a return from extravagance to simplicity and economy.

Greenback Convention in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, September 6.—The State Greenback Convention met at Jefferson City at noon to-day, and after temporarily organizing took a recess. On reassembling R. G. Hubbard was chosen permanent Chairman. The following ticket was adopted unanimously: For Governor, J. P. Alexander; Lieutenant Governor, Jas. E. Owens; Secretary of State, A. W. H. John; Auditor, A. W. Hubbard; Treasurer, S. L. Price; Attorney General, A. L. Gilstrap. A full electoral ticket was also nominated. About twenty counties were represented by some thirty odd delegates.

Hubbard; Lieutenant Governor, Francis B. Loomis, both by acclamation; Secretary of State, Dwight L. Morris; Treasurer, Edwin A. Buck, Comptroller, Chas. C. Hubbard; Electors at large, Gov. Chas. R. Ingersoll and Gen. Wm. B. Franklin.

The resolutions adopted cordially approve the platform and nominations of the national convention at St. Louis; arraign the Republican party for corruption, and demand a change of administration to secure radical reform in the civil service; charge the Republican party with opposing the economic policy of the Democrats, and causing the depression of business by official corruption and extravagance; demand rigid economy in public expenditures; thank the Democratic House of Representatives for retrenchment in the face of the opposition of Republicans; call for the removal of all dishonest officials; demand that the array of Federal bayonets around the polls where peaceable citizens are voting shall cease; denounce the recent order of Attorney General Taft as an outrage; ask for a wiser policy in the system of taxation; demand a return to specie payments by the most speedy and practicable method, and discountenance the imposing of revengeful acts upon any section of our common country.

The Republican Campaign in Indiana.

LOGANSPORT, September 6.—Judge Dittenkoeffer, of New York, and Senator Sherman, of Ohio, addressed a rousing meeting at the wigwam to-night. It was the most enthusiastic of this campaign. The Judge referred to the position of the Democratic party during the Franco-Prusian war, and reminded the Germans that party never offered them nor the faderland any sympathy in that struggle, and that T. A. Hendricks, when called upon at an Indianapolis meeting stated that he had not time to determine what side was right, while the Republican General Baker, made a rousing speech for the Germans.

The Nebraska Democrats.

OMAHA, September 6.—The Democratic State Convention met to day. General J. Holman was nominated for Congress, and Paren England for Governor. ATCHISON, KAN., September 6.—The Democrats of the First district to-day nominated Thos. A. Fenton for Congress, by acclamation. This will result in a contest between Col. Phillips and Fenton, as Col. Gulte, the other Republican candidate, will withdraw.

The Grain Traffic at Toledo.

TOLEDO, September 6.—The grain traffic on the Wabash Railway during the month of August was the heaviest in the history of the road, aggregating over two million bushels delivered here during the month.

The Grand Jury at Wheeling.

WHEELING, W. VA., September 6.—The Grand Jury, in session here the past three days, completed their labors to-day. A clean sweep was made of the liquor men and keepers of houses of prostitution.

Brandy Distillery Seized.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—The revenue officers have seized the Colislog brandy distillery in Napa county, for violation of the revenue laws. Proceedings for confiscation will be commenced directly.

THE PRIZE RING.

The Mill Between Allen and Goss to Take Place To-day.

CINCINNATI, September 6.—An immense crowd of sporting men arrived in the city last evening and to-day to attend the coming mill between Allen and Goss. It has been definitely settled that the fight will take place to-morrow forenoon, between six and eleven o'clock, and the spot chosen is in Kentucky, not more than fifty miles from Cincinnati. Allen left for the ground to-day at noon. Goss will follow this afternoon. Two or three excursion trains are ready, and will leave the Little Miami depot after midnight. It is understood Ryan, of St. Louis, will be the referee. Tom Kelly and Arthur Chambers are Allen's seconds, and Jim Mace and Joe Coburn Goss' seconds.

Later.—There are evidences to-night that the State authorities of Kentucky are moving in the matter of to-morrow's prize fight, and that efforts will be made to prevent or stop the fight, if possible, in the State. On the other hand, the parties in charge of the excursion appear apprehensive of interference, and will use all possible means to outwit the State officers. Ample arrangements have been made for telegraphic facilities at the spot selected, and unless a material change is made in its location, reports of the progress of the mill will be transmitted promptly from the grounds.

LOUISVILLE, September 6.—A great deal of interest is manifested in the prize fight between Allen and Goss. It is generally understood it will take place in Owen county, half way between here and Cincinnati, and on the Louisville Short Line Railroad. A number of persons will leave for the grounds at 3:20 A. M.; notwithstanding a rumor that Gov. McCreary proposes to interfere.

Later.—The rumor that the Goss and Allen prize fight would come off in Kentucky having been corroborated from reliable sources, Gov. McCreary has taken steps to interfere. Sparta, where the fight was set to take place, is on the very edge of Gallatin county, and the selection was no doubt prompted by the fact that by crossing a small stream an adjacent county can at once be reached. The Governor's instructions are designed to thwart any such move, the authorities of both counties being notified, as can be seen from the following to Judge Darman, of Owen county:

"Information deemed reliable has been received by me, stating that the Goss-Allen fight will occur near Sparta on September 7. I have telegraphed to the Sheriffs of Owen and Gallatin counties to be there and arrest all violators of the law. I desire you to be there and issue such writs as may be necessary.

"JAS. B. MCCREARY, Governor."

Instructions have been also sent by His Excellency to Capt. Frank Wood, of the Covington Light Guard, ordering him to be ready at a moment's notice to assist in preventing the fight.

THE INDIAN EXPEDITION.

No Prospects of Another Fight—The Troops Making Fruitless Marches.

CHICAGO, September 6.—The Times' special from Terry's camp, dated August 30th, via Bismarck, says the command left the Yellowstone river, near the mouth of Opallen's Creek, on the evening of the 27th, moving due north for ten miles, and went into camp. At four o'clock the next morning the march was resumed. The country is dry and parched, rendering long marches impossible. Water is scarce, and small streams are entirely dry. After the first day's march the command entered the buffalo range north of the Yellowstone, and hunting parties were detailed, which secured game enough to last some days. Yesterday afternoon they camped on the north fork of Rosh Creek, eighty miles north of the Yellowstone, bordering on the space between the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers. Capt. Bell, with a detachment of four companies, left the main column, with instructions to move north across the divide in search of Indian trails leading towards Big Dry creek or Muscle Shell river. The battalion rode twenty miles, while the main column moved east, and is now in camp on Deer creek, a tributary of the Yellowstone. Capt. Bell returned to-night, reporting the discovery of no heavy trails. Hence no large bodies of Indians have crossed the river to move toward Fort Benton. Carcasses of buffaloes and old trails only were discovered. The present camp is within twelve miles of south of Glenden creek, where a junction, if any, was to be formed with Crook.

A courier leaves for Crook to-night. Terry is convinced the Indians have not crossed the river in any force west of us, and if they have gone north at all, it is toward Fort Peck. It is expected the infantry will move east to-morrow, and that their ultimate destination is Fort Peck, on the Missouri. There appears no possibility of a further junction of Crook and Terry for field work.

STEAM NAVIGATION.

Fifth Annual Session of the National Board—Address by Hon. J. H. Hopkins, of Pittsburgh.

BALTIMORE, September 6.—The fifth annual session of the National Board of Steam Navigation was begun here to-day. About sixty delegates were present, representing all parts of the country. Thomas Sherlock, of Cincinnati, Chairman of the Executive Committee, made a long report. Hon. J. H. Hopkins, of Pittsburgh, was present by invitation, and made an address on steamboat interests, its magnitude and public importance. The board then adjourned until 3 P. M., when an executive session was held. The regular open session was resumed in the evening.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Jno. Allen, Jr., of Buffalo; First Vice President, Thos. Clyde, of Philadelphia; Second Vice President, R. H. Woolfolk, of Louisville, Ky. Pittsburgh was selected for holding the next annual session of the Board, commencing on the first Wednesday in September, 1877. A resolution to memorialize Congress to remove the obstructions in the Ohio river at the falls at Louisville so as to dispense with the canal was discussed, and the subject finally referred to a special committee.

Forged Drafts.

LOUISVILLE, September 6.—A man about thirty years of age, named Henry Murray, was arrested here to-day for attempting to sell drafts supposed to be forged. Every National bank in the city received a letter this morning purporting to come from Geo. W. Toole, cashier of the Central National Bank of Cleveland, enclosing Murray's signature and asking favors for him, stating that he had drafts on New York for $13,000. The banks, learning that no such institution existed in Cleveland, watched for Murray, and when he made his appearance at the Citizens National Bank he was arrested, but not until he had slipped the drafts to partners.

Prof. Huxley in Nashville.

NASHVILLE, September 6.—Prof. Thomas H. Huxley yesterday visited the State Capital and the Departments of Agriculture and Mines, of Public Instructions, State Library, and Cabinets of the State Historical Society. He also visited to-day the Fisk University, city public schools, Vanderbilt University, and the anatomical museum of the Nashville Medical College. At the earnest solicitation of a meeting of citizens he has consented to deliver an extemporaneous discourse at Mason's Theatre to-morrow night.

Interesting Letter from Poland, Ohio.

We want to get a Piano for our Seminary, and I wish to inquire of you what Piano you will recommend for school use, whether a Steinway or some other make? What do you think of the United States Piano? I have already bought two Steinway Pianos of you, years ago, both of your own selection, and they have given such perfect satisfaction that I have more confidence in your opinion than any other dealer in Pianos. Please write us at once what make of Pianos you recommend for our purpose, and what is the lowest you will sell us one for, etc.

Yours truly,
B. F. LEE,
Poland Union Seminary, Poland, O.

To Henry Kleber, Esq., of H. Kleber & Bro. July 6th, 1876.

Second Letter from Poland.

We have received the Steinway Piano you selected for our Seminary in good order. We took it out of the box to-day and had it tried by our young lady teacher. She pronounces it a very fine instrument. Will send you check as soon as possible.

B. F. LEE.

Poland, August 16, 1876.
To H. Kleber & Bro., Sole Agents for Steinway Pianos.

It is gratifying to note the success of good things and good men. If Steinway be the first piano maker in this country, then their agents, H. Kleber & Bro., may with equal right be called the first music house in Pittsburgh.

KING, REED & CO.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1876.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 48½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 109¼.

THE Republican mass meeting on Friday evening, promises to be largely attended, and very successful. Eloquent and able speakers will occupy the stand.

THE Baltimore Gazette attracts attention to itself by raising a terrible howl over Attorney General TAFT's letter to the United States Marshals relative to the protection of the purity of the ballot-box. It wants civil war without any delay. Of course, it is all mere bluster,—but how silly to imagine that any one is to be frightened about it.

EX-SENATOR RUTAN is spoken of, by the Beaver Times as a prospective candidate for State Treasurer. He will make a popular candidate, and if elected a good and efficient officer. In the State Senate, he earned the sobriquet of watch-dog of the Treasury, and if elected Treasurer, the people can rely on an honest and just administration of the State Treasury.

WHILE the Democracy are making the occasional accession they may have from independent ranks,—GEORGE W. JULIAN being the last,—the reason for very ostentatious rejoicing, the bulk of those who supported the liberal ticket, four years ago have quietly ranged themselves with the Republican party, and will actively promote its interest. The fates are evidently against the Democracy.

THE benefit of joint discussion, as soothing away the asperities of political debate, has been illustrated in Ohio by a discussion between Senator SHERMAN and D. W. VORHEES. The usual freedom of speech, indulged toward a rival party, was controlled by the fact that a representative of the opposite party was at hand to reply, and thus courtesy prevailed, and a clear statement of party differences was had. Why should we not have something of that kind in this State?

THE Massachusetts Republicans illustrated the perfect harmony which prevails in that State by nominating their State ticket from Governor down by acclamation. Their platform is clear, concise, and sound. They put the point exactly when they affirm that the Democracy are developing sectional organization at the South by establishing the color line in politics. It is evident, from the harmony manifested in Convention, that the Massachusetts Republicans intend to give a good account of themselves.

THE new United States loan has been successfully placed, so far as the first instalment of $50,000,000 is concerned, and this so promptly, that it is reported that the balance will be offered at an advance. It speaks well for the credit of the Government. The American offering was more than covered by the subscriptions made. It is a pity the places devised had not given a preference as to amount, to the American subscriptions. We need to bring our debt home, as much as possible, that the interest called for may be distributed among our own people and not sent abroad.

JUDGES LUDLOW and BRIGGS, in Philadelphia, judicially decided that assessors must sit on the 6th and 7th instant to assess votes, which, if generally applied, includes to-day as a legal day of registration. We strongly urge every citizen, of whatever political faith, to see that he is assessed and otherwise properly qualified to vote at the next election. It is the duty of every tax-payer and none should disregard it. It is certain that all the worst elements of our voting population will be assessed, and the better element in our population should not fail to attend to this important duty.

THE new novel by GEORGE ELIOT, "Daniel Deronda," is quite severely criticised, as not being well sustained throughout. The judgment put upon GEORGE ELIOT's writings is more severe than is usually applied to modern writers, because she has developed so much power that more is expected of her, than from most others. It is claimed, however, that she is equal to the best novelists of recent times, the superior of Dickens, and that the failure of "Daniel Deronda" is rather as a work of art, while in philosophical insight, and ripe and noble genius it is a grand triumph for its author.

ACCEPTING the reasoning of the New York Sun as to Vermont, and the election of HAYES and WHEELER is assured. It says: "The Republicans, if they hope to elect HAYES for President, ought to carry Vermont to-day by 27,000 majority. At the September elections for Governor and Congressmen in the latest four Presidential years, they got majorities as follows: In 1860 they got 25,000; in 1864, 20,000; in 1868, 28,000; in 1872, 26,000. This is an average of 27,000. If they fall below 27,000 to-day, it will foreshadow the doom of HAYES." As the State has been carried by about 30,000 majority, it follows that the Republican ticket is to be successful in the country at large.

THE recent victories of Turkey have made that power quite decided in its opposition to an armistice, and there is now nothing but war or absolute peace. It is thought that England will not oppose Russia, should she interfere in behalf of the Servians, but that Austria will. In any event, the Turks show considerable faith in themselves, and so propose to fight the war out to the bitter end, unless a satisfactory peace is offered. It is very certain that the Turkish armies have developed more fighting strength, and their generals greater military skill, than was anticipated. The Servians, on the other hand, have shown less fighting capacity than was anticipated. Should Russia put her hand in decidedly, there will be a shaking up in Europe, such as has not been known for many years.

PUBLIC sentiment in Great Britain is developing so rapidly against the Government policy, in shielding and supporting Turkey, despite the Bulgarian atrocities, that the Ministry is weakening under it. Earl RUSSELL demands a fall meeting of Parliament, while John BRIGHT writes a strong letter to a public meeting, denouncing the policy of the Government in terms quite unusual with him. GLADSTONE has issued a pamphlet on the subject this week, and even the Bishops of the English church are moving. DISRAELI's party are compelled to act to prevent it becoming a party question, in which event he will be swept from power. It is not merely the new atrocities that are exciting indignation, but the old Bulgarian outrages are strongly talked about. Should English public sentiment fully develop itself, as it seems likely to do, the Government cannot save itself from defeat, unless it concedes the demands. The press, even including the Times, strongly denounces the course of the Government, and demands interference, in the interest of humanity. This agitation is rapidly developing a crisis, in public affairs in England.

THE cold and cloudy weather we have been having reminds doubly,—of autumn's approach and of the coming equinoxial storm. One is strongly reminded that the chill period of the year is approaching, when warm fires will be needed to make pleasant autumn evenings. The equinoxial is usually looked forward to with dread, yet it is generally followed by the delightful Indian Summer,—the most agreeable period of the year. During the hazy, dreamy days of our October Indian Summer, life is a luxury and existence a joy. The unusual heat of the past summer causes us to shrink from contact with the cold atmosphere of the present. Nothing so contributes to torpidity as the first chill breath of autumn, after the heat of summer. Even our imaginations are often tinged with it, and all looks blue and gloomy. Poor human nature is often controlled by its material surroundings, and the withholding of natural sunshine for a day often tinges the imagination with the gloomiest thoughts. We live amid influences that control us far more than we think, and walk in mental sunshine, or cloud, as the natural world is bright or dark. So the cool, dark days of the present may be expected to tinge expressions on all imaginable subjects.

IT is very amusing, the dodge taken by the Democracy, to shield TILDEN. It is equivalent to confession that they have no legitimate defense to offer for him. Nor indeed have they. His two affidavits say: "I hereby certify that the following is a true and faithful statement of the gains, profits, or income of SAMUEL J. TILDEN, of the City of New York, and County of New York, State of New York, whether derived from any kind of property, rents, interest, dividends, salary, or from any profession, trade, employment, or vocation, or from any other source whatever, from 1st day of January to 31st day of December, 1862, both days inclusive, and subject to an income tax under the Excise laws of the United States. Income from all sources, $7,118." As against this he swears: "That for such services the defendant, TILDEN, made a charge of $10,000 against said second mortgage bondholders, and the said charge was paid by or on behalf of second mortgage bondholders on the 17th of October, 1862; . . . that the defendant, TILDEN, for a part of his services aforesaid, also made a charge of the like sum of $10,000 on account of professional services rendered to the first mortgage bondholders and the Receivers, which was paid him by the said AZARIAH C. FLAGG, . . . and which payment appears under date of November 7, 1862, in a statement annexed to the first report aforesaid, as having been receipted for by the said TILDEN, 'on account of professional services.'" Both are his affidavits, and one affords evidence that the other contains perjury. After all the excuses made, we have only to carefully read the language to know that perjury is contained in them, and that no excuse made touches the case. As to HAYES, some one thinks he had more property than he returned,—this is all. On looking up his affidavit, it is shown that he exposed to the assessor all the property he had, and the assessor put the valuation on it. This is all there is in that.

VERMONT.

More than any other New England State, Vermont has been made the battle ground of this year's election. Maine is being hotly contested, because it is the home of BLAINE, and the second New England State that votes in September. Yet Maine is so strongly Republican that the only hope that can be entertained, regarding it is, that the majority there may be reduced considerably. Vermont, however, was made the real battle ground, and the result is significant. The large increase in both the Republican vote, and the consequent majority, speaks unmistakably of the drift of public sentiment. A well-rounded 30,000 majority speaks of the enthusiasm of war times, and is something wonderful, these days. There is no mistaking the fact that the people clearly understand the drift of political affairs, and are not willing to trust the Democracy with power. This, not because of old-time waving of bloody shirts, but on account of what the Democracy have done within a year. They have clearly shown that the old-time spirit of desperation is still with them, and that exactly the same principles which ruled them at the outbreak of the war of rebellion, rule them still. TILDEN, in character and affiliations, is a representative Democrat, and his income tax oath shows exactly how much regard he has for the well-being of the country, as compared with his personal interest. All this the people see, and hence the result in Vermont.

We pointed out, yesterday, the drift of events in the three States where the closest fight is being made, and Vermont points significantly to the idea that we did not mistake the popular drift. Mr. TILDEN cannot overcome the moral effect of the Vermont election, so soon to be supplemented by that in Maine. Admit that they are Republican States, and the increase of popular majority shows that they are more Republican than ever. Their influence will be felt in Ohio and Indiana, and if the latter is wrested from Democratic control, or even if the Democratic majority is materially reduced, it will tell on the vote in the November States. Indeed, should Indiana go Republican, as we believe it will, TILDEN is certainly defeated in November, even New York being likely to go against him. Hence the importance, in moral effect, of the Vermont election. Thirty thousand majority cannot be whistled down the wind, as possessed of no particular significance. We therefore congratulate our fellow Republicans on the prospect, and urge the vigorous prosecution of the battle. It is thus, more than ever, if possible, a battle of principles. The men are representative of the views and policies of their respective parties. As to what these principles are, there is no disguise. The Democratic party, during the past winter, illustrated that it has not changed for the better; that all the old race bitterness, and State rights ideas of the days of the rebellion, are with it still. This is what the people will fully, and promptly overthrow.

TRADE REVIVAL.

There is more discussion in the papers over trade prospects, just at the present, than we have seen for many months. The tone of all the discussion is hopeful, but there are not so many specific facts developed as we would like to see, to justify the conclusions reached. Still we judge that where so many think that better times are coming, there is ground for hope, as the thought often inspires the energy essential to business revival. Yet there are facts to rest the confidence that we have passed the worst phase of hard times, upon. For example, the great cotton mills of New England are starting up, with prices offered for their fabrics that will pay for manufacturing. Cheap cottons have advanced nearly fifty per cent. The mills are at work again, and new corporations are being founded from old. The manufacturing stocks are advancing in value, and a movement of activity is perceptible through all the business of Boston. The simple explanation is that, so far as calicos and cheap cottons are concerned, people have economized as far as they can, and have consumed their saving in this direction, and now must have a new supply. The stock on hand has been largely used up, so that new goods must be made. Cotton manufacture begins; this causes a large body of operatives to be able to demand more products, and so another wheel is moved, and the whole machinery of trade and production set in motion. And what is true of the East is equally true of the West. The wool products and manufactories of the West are being equally affected by improving times. But both the West and South are relatively better than the East, owing to the cotton and grain crops of the past ten years. These have been quite large, particularly during the past season, and have been marketed at fair rates, so that the West and South have been really recuperating for a time past.

The indications of business revival do not point to an era of railroad building, so much as to the development of the material industries and resources of the country, and the building up of fallen fortunes. Thus all efforts, so far as we can see, turn toward improvement in prices of staple material. Thus in nearly every character of staple goods, there has been an advance. Hence there has been an advance of 2½ to 5 per centum in bleached goods, 7½ to 10 per centum in prints, and 25 per centum in printing cloths. Woolen manufactures do not yet show so decisive a change, although the condition of that trade is much better. In silk manufactures there has been an advance of 5 to 25 per centum, which, it should be said, is due more to exceptional than to general causes. In the other trade markets there has been a large advance in wool, which was begun by the purchases of manufacturers, who sold their good at auction early in the summer, and were thereby enabled to buy cheap wool. Hides within the past two weeks have advanced 1 to 2 cents a pound; coffee and sugars have during the last few weeks advanced considerably, and in exportable articles there has been a rise in petroleum from 15 cents to 25 cents a gallon, which is enough to make a difference of nearly $25,000,000 in the value of our exportable surplus of petroleum, and, so far as we can see, there is nothing speculative in all this. We hold that the increase in the price of petroleum is not necessarily speculative, but only what can be steadily maintained. Hence, so far as can be seen, we have started on the upward grade, and hereafter there will be a generally constant, though not perfectly steady, improvement in prices and business. During the last three years the process of industrial reconstruction has been steadily going on, and it is indisputable that trade was never on a sounder basis than now; trade indebtedness was never smaller, and careful management was never more general. There will, of course, be failures, as there are always; but, as we have said, with ample bank facilities and money abundant, with prices and wages low, and with good crops, we have all the conditions for abiding prosperity. We therefore accept the situation as having in it many elements of promise and hope.

POLITICAL NOTES.

MR. LAMAR has decided not to stump California after all.

THERE is no Democratic organization in Iowa worth speaking about.

GOV. SEYMOUR's example has affected the entire Democratic party. It is visibly in a decline.

TILDEN is said to look uneasy when any of his friends speak of the incom—ing administration.

TILDEN worked as hard to capture a nomination as Seymour resisted being captured by one. The difference is striking.

MR. WENDELL PHILLIPS has just been speaking from the same stand with General Butler, and urging his election because the people "want honesty, capacity, and courage in public officials."

GENERAL BANKS characterizes the Tilden campaign as "a united south masked behind the deception of northern reform." The Chicago Post adds: "With the mask already torn two-thirds off."

A VOTE of thanks is due from the Republican party to the Democratic managers of the Saratoga Convention for the fine mess they have made of things on their side of the Empire State.

MR. BLAINE has consented to take part in the canvass in Indiana, and will be present at the meeting arranged to be held at the Tippecanoe battle-ground on the 26th instant. General Harrison will also be there.

TENNESSEE papers are accusing their Democratic State officials of permitting information to "leak out," for the benefit and profit of a small ring, that the coupons of the State bonds up to January, 1875, were to be paid at once.

THE Burlington Hawkeye feels called upon to offer this explanation: "We are not giving as much attention to the Democratic candidate for Vice President as we had expected, but we will say this much for him, that, so far as we know, he paid his income tax."

THE Cincinnati Enquirer can scarcely conceal its delight at the declination of Governor Seymour. It stabs Tilden in the suggestion that the duty of the committee is to put Sanford E. Church at the head of the ticket. Church was an anti-Tilden candidate.

THE Illinois State Journal cites as an example of the eternal fitness of things that in the Fourteenth Illinois Congressional District, the partisans of the Republican candidate for Congress are called Cannon Guards and those of the Democratic candidate Black Guards.

DEMOCRACY is at a low ebb in Iowa. In the State Convention the other day only fifty-three out of the 100 counties of the State were represented, and the whole body numbered only seventy men. Evidently the people of Iowa think they can get reform enough with Governor Hayes.

THE New York Herald regards the proposition to vote for Seymour in spite of his declination as a freak of political lunacy which sets the moral sentiment of the State at defiance by endorsing the brazen fraud which was practiced on the State Convention, and rubbing in the affront offered to Mr. Seymour.

GENERAL BOYNTON telegraphs to the Cincinnati Gazette that, with all its show of indignant virtue, the Democratic committee on the Freedmen's bank, when it found ex-Representative Pierce, of Georgia, a Democrat, as badly involved as anybody, hushed the matter up, and omitted him altogether from its report.

THE Philadelphia Bulletin neatly turns it thus: "In his speech in defense of Tilden, Mr. Hewitt says: 'I defy these gentlemen to lay their hands on a dishonest dollar in the possession of Samuel J. Tilden.' Such a defiance proves nothing. We defy Mr. Hewitt to lay his hands upon a dishonest dollar in the possession of Wm. M. Tweed.'"

THE Parker Daily says the Senatorial matter on the Republican side of the house for the district composed of Butler and Armstrong "still hangs fire. Mr. Allen, who was the unanimous choice of this county, has no intention of withdrawing from the fight, and Mr. Robinson is hanging on like a dog to a root. The oil men of the district feel very indignant over the treatment their candidate has received, and vow that they will not vote for the Butler county candidate, and unless R. B. Allen is the coming man, will vote solid for E. S. Golden, the Democratic candidate."

THIS is what the Philadelphia Times (Tilden organ) said the day before the Vermont news came in. "If to-day Vermont shall give 25,000 or more majority, it will be notice that the National reform element of the Republican party is unwavering in its adherence to the Republican candidates, and Hayes needs only a solid Republican vote to be elected. With such a majority in Vermont, followed by from 17,000 to 20,000 in Maine on Monday next, all hope of Tilden drawing largely from the better class of Republicans will be dispelled, and the more decisive battles of Ohio and Indiana would be fought by the Hayes men under the inspiration of victory."

THE Democrats would have liked to prove that Gov. Hayes had done everything wicked; failing in that, they are trying to show that he never did anything good or bad. As to this the Cincinnati Commercial says: "It is complained of Hayes that he is 'a negative man.' From 1861 to 1865 it is our impression that he was a tolerable positive person. It was Sam. Tilden who was the negative man then. He was as Bob. Ingersoll says, 'a demurrer,' and assented to nothing but the peace-and-surrender resolutions of the Chicago Convention; and he had become so habituated to dissenting to everything that even then, if we take Manton Marble's word for it, he demurred to that privately. He is a success as a demurrer."

"I PASS on to general (Pennsylvania) State politics as viewed from the standpoint of the Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee. His judgment is made up briefly, but decidedly: "From my complete and thorough reports from all parts of the State I am able to say, without buncombe, that Pennsylvania will go very heavily for Hayes. Our people are organizing in every city, town, and hamlet, and making inroads into the Democratic ranks everywhere. In the little town of Rochester I just heard that the club there had acquired nine Democrats. Yes, there seems to be a little divertisement in some of the Western counties in favor of the Greenback party of Peter Cooper. In Washington, Lawrence, Mercer, and Beaver counties the workingmen, under the guise of a secret society—the Junior Sons of '76—are organizing, and claim that they will vote for Peter Cooper, but as election time approaches look out for them to go to pieces. They have control of several manufacturing towns in the iron country. In Mercer the Democrats have endorsed their ticket, refusing to make their own party nominations. Notwithstanding this, I consider the State as fairly in our hands with a big margin to spare."—Phila. Sunday World.

IT is such "straws" as this that really show the drift of political elements: Albert G. Woffindin, editor of the Weston, W. Va., Democrat, served four years in the Union army. Ever since the war he has been a stringent Democrat, and has for ten years conducted his paper in advocacy of his principles. On last Saturday he came out for Hayes and Wheeler. Among other things he says: "We have ascertained to our full sasisfaction, after ten years hard service in the 'Democratic' party, that it is one and the same party that voted for the Ordinance of Secession. Whatever despicable motives may cloak this feeling, it crops out in due time; and we know of our own knowledge that the deep hatred of all known as the 'Union men' still exists, and is as firm and lasting as the lives of the leaders of the Confederate movement. Union men are not wanted in the Democratic party. We speak by authority when we say that all who favored the Union in the late troubles are unwelcome guests in the 'Democratic' family. We have been notified of this fact, and authorized to say that any man who favored the Union is not and cannot be a true Democrat. All the service he is to that party is his voting strength. When that is secured, he is to be 'invited out.'" Mr. Woffington was last year Clerk of the House of Delegates of the West Virginia Legislature.

THE CAREER OF DISRAELI.

How He Fought His Way to Fame and Fortune.

What the Germans would call the central idea in the widespread wonder which Mr. Disraeli's career has excited has been expatiated on so often and at such length that it has become almost too familiar to be any longer wonderful. We must make the effort of putting ourselves back thirty or forty years, and recall the ridicule with which the pretensions of the fashionable novelist were received when he first engaged in politics, if we would estimate at its true value what he has achieved. He forced his way into the ranks of the most exclusive aristocracy in the world, he patiently bore their rebuffs, he made himself essential to them, he became their political leader, and he persuaded them to reverse the policy which they had pursued for more than thirty years, and to which they were committed by all their prejudices.

The most wonderful part of it all is that he plainly announced beforehand what he was going to do. He deliberately spread the net in sight of the bird, and then persuaded the bird to walk in. It is an altogether unparalleled achievement, although this generation is pretty nearly talked and written out of the wonder of it. His forcible appropriation of the confidence, or at least the allegiance, of the Tory party is even more astonishing than his acquisition of something like the personal affection of the mass of the people. It is wonderful, no doubt, that a man who made an open profession of what our grandfathers would have called political profligacy, who ostentatiously proclaimed himself a party man, and worked for his party with an abnegation of personal convictions which we had been accustomed to associate with the name of Jesuitism, should ever have become personally popular in England, much more so than a rival who is supposed to take his conscience as the rule of his conduct. That may be because we are less earnest than our grandfathers; or it may be because anecdotes of Mr. Disraeli's domestic virtues and generous kindliness in private life produced an impression that he was better at heart than he professed to be, and that his cynicism was really the outcome of a hatred for cant; or it may be that, being a sober people, we forgive everything to anybody who relieves our dullness.

A hundred plausible reasons could be given for Disrael's personal popularity. But his conquest of the Tory party is more marvellous and inexplicable. Perhaps, if the truth were known, it would be less creditable to the Tory party than to Mr. Disraeli. This, at least, lies upon the surface, that he has fought his way to the head of the party of acres and money-bags with an audacity which would before have been pronounced superhuman. His motto through life has been that of Danton, "De l'audace, encore de l'audace, et toujours de l'audace." Disasters which would have extinguished another man seem only to have steeled his pertinacity.—London Examiner.

A NEW ENGLAND CLAM BAKE.

What the Feast Contists Of, and Who Patronize It.

This is peculiarly a Yankee entertainment, and is, therefore, little understood outside of New England. When one reads that "a thousand persons attended a clam bake," the question arises, how are they all fed, and how can the clams be cooked for such a multitude? The great centre of clam baking is Rocky Point, near Providence, R. I. The reason of this is found in the fact that it is a popular resort, and the facilities are unusually good for such entertainments. The eating-room at this place will accommodate fifteen hundred at one sitting, and three such sittings have occurred in one day. Rocky Point is a resort for excursions both of poor and rich. The factory operatives go thither in great numbers, and find it a beneficial retreat from their closely confining labor. A clam bake is preceded by a notice of the numbers, and the hotel-keeper thereupon sends his fisherman for clams. These are dug out of the sand, and are worth about two dollars per bushel. The next day they are cooked in the following manner: A number of stones are laid upon the ground, so as to cover a space of about eight feet square. On this is placed a pile of wood, equal to nearly a third of a cord, which being burned bring the stones almost to red heat. The ashes and coals are then removed, and the place is covered with wet sea-weed. On this is piled a heap of clams (the higher the better), and sometimes seventy-five bushels are baked at once. The heap is then covered with blankets, and the cooking is done by the steam arising from the sea-weed—a process which requires an hour. The covering is then removed, and the clams are shoveled into dishes and brought on to the tables. The guests open the shell, take the clam by its head, dip it into melted butter, and then it is seen no more.

Along with this is given Boston brown bread, green corn, clam fritters, fried blue-fish and chowder. On Friday, the 25th, 10,000 persons visited Rocky Point. One hundred and fifty bushels of clams had been cooked, but the demand would have exhausted double that quantity. A clam brake is justly considered a luxury by all visitors. The season at such a place is but three months, at the end of which time the clams are left in peace, and the seekers of pleasure are driven away by the sharp breezes of autumn.

How He Changed His Subject.

A new minister who arrived in one of the darkest circuits of Egyptian Illinois, the other Sunday, announced as the subject of his first discourse, "Woman, her History and Sphere."

"Eve was a most beautiful woman," he proceeded, "and doubtless as tender and helpful to her husband as any of the good wives of to-day."

"Yes," called out a grizzly backwoodsman, getting up and going out, "we all know how she helped him 'bout the Fall work!"

FAREWELL TO SUMMER.

Summer is fading; the broad leaves that grew
So freshly green when June was young are falling
And all the whisper-haunted forest through
The restless birds in saddened tones are calling
From rustling hazel copse and tangled dell;
"Farewell, sweet summer,
Fragrant, fruity summer,
Sweet farewell!"

Upon the windy hills, in many a field,
The honey-bees hum slow above the clover,
Gleaning the latest sweets its blooms may yield,
And, knowing that their harvest time is over,
Sing, half a lullaby and half a knell:
"Farewell, sweet summer,
Honey-laden summer,
Sweet farewell!"

The little brook that babbles 'mid the ferns,
O'er twisted roots and sandy shallows playing,
Seems fain to linger in its eddied turns,
And with a plaintive, purling voice is saying,
Sadder and sweeter than my song can tell:
"Farewell sweet summer,
Warm and dreamy summer,
Sweet farewell!"

The fitful breeze sweeps down the winding lane,
With gold and crimson leaves before it flying;
Its gusty laughter has no sound of pain,
But in the lulls it sinks to gentle sighing,
And mourns the summer's early broken spell—
"Farewell, sweet summer,
Rosy, blooming summer,
Sweet farewell!"

So bird and bee and brook and breeze make moan,
With melancholy song their loss complaining;
I, too, must join them, as I walk alone
Among the sights and sounds of summer's waning;
I, too, have loved the season passing well—
So farewell, summer,
Fair, but faded summer,
Sweet farewell!—George Arnold.

Capt. John Smith's Tomb.

A Virginia lady now in London writes with some indignation to the Richmond Dispatch concerning the neglected tomb of Captain John Smith. His remains lie under the old Church of St. Sepulchre, which stands in the very heart of London, and the exact situation of the tomb is thus described: "One flag-paved aisle divides the cave; another crosses it near the eastern end. The two entrances are at the extremities of the cross-aisle. In this cross-aisle, near the intersection, a large slab covers the grave of Captain John Smith, the pioneer hero of Virginia. The trampling feet of eight generations have in 250 years utterly obliterated whatever inscription or epitaph recorded his deeds and virtues. Not a letter remains. One morsel of carving, sheltered by its proximity to the pews, alone serves to identify the stone. But identification is beyond dispute. It consist of the upper dexter corner of a shield containing the three Turks' heads, which Smith was permitted to bear in coat-of-arms after he had, in three single combots, slain the Turkish champion, Bonny Mulgro, and his two companions. The remainder of the shield has, like the inscription, vanished." The writer adds that the interior of the church is shortly to be thoroughly renovated, and suggests that Virginians undertake to restore the exterior of Captain Smith's tomb. Accordingly the Dispatch has opened a subscription, each contribution to be $1, for that purpose.

Saratoga's Fashionable Promenade.

The fashionable rendezvous for beaux, belles, and suffering humanity generally is the park, so remodeled and beautified that an old habitue would scarcely recognize it. A pagoda-like structure, elegant yet light in style, has been erected over the Congress Spring, and extends some 350 feet on the avenue, opposite Morrissey's Club House. Walking from the spring, on a flour of mosaics, you descend a flight of marble steps and enter the eating pavilion, which is surrounded by exotics and beds of tuberoses, the air being positively heavy with their rich perfume. From this you enter the grounds, which nightly glitter and gleam with the lights of 10,000 Chinese lanterns. In the heart of the park a little lake nestles, and upon an island in its center stands the fairy-like pavillion for the band, which nightly discourses sweet music. The boundaries of this little lake are defined by a triple cordon of many-colored lights, the pavillion crowned with the same, while both are reflected in the watery mirror beneath. Nature, music and the arts combined produce a scene of weird, bewitching and unrivaled splendor. Here time flies, upon the wings of love, and we think and care for naught save our own sweet selves.—Saratoga Letter.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, September 7, 1876.

The dull, damp day yesterday did not contribute to activity in any department of business, and even the banks felt the universal weather despondency. It was not, however, a test day, the damp atmosphere and rainfall, united with the prevailing coolness, serving to damper the spirits of any. This aside, however, and the trade outlook is bright and hopeful. Merchants generally manifest a cheerful and satisfied air with the general course of trade. True, customers buy rather closely; but then what they do purchase is promptly paid for. Generally it may be said that collections are good. Not only is this true of current transactions, but the people are making steady progress towards the payment of their past liabilities. Liquidation and settlement have been going on for the past three years, and, with the rigid economy practiced by almost everybody, it is believed by our shrewdest observers that a solid basis has at last been reached, and that a safe and steady increase of business activity may be confidently anticipated.

While general business is fairly active, it does not make itself felt to any considerable extent at the banks, for the reason that each merchant deposits with his own bank and buys exchange of it, and hence transactions do not largely appear in the figures of the Clearing House. The week opened dull at the banks—that is, they have comparatively little call for discounts. Country correspondents require the largest accommodations, but city dealers do not seem to need much, if any, money beyond there ordinary receipts.

BONDS.

The following in regard to the decline in Governments on account of the refunding process is taken from the New York Journal of Commerce:

There is no occasion for haste in the disposal of the 6 per cent. bonds. Yesterday's call by the Government was for only $10,000,000 of the $150,558,650 May and November 1865's, because only that amount of the 4½ per cents will be ready for delivery. Even were the call for the whole amount of the "firm" bid of the syndicate—$40,000,000—there will be $110,558,650 of this class of bonds remaining, and unless the 4½ per cents are placed with hitherto unprecedented expedition, it is scarcely reasonable to expect that the last of the May and November issue will be called before next spring. The course hitherto pursued by the department has been to first call the low-numbered bonds, and it is likely that the precedent will be followed. Therefore, those holding bonds bearing high numbers of both classes of 1865's may reasonably expect that they will not be disturbed in their possession of them until a comparatively remote period. Even after the $300,000,000 4 1-2 per cents are all placed there will remain $53,221,750 of the January and July 1865's untouched.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

The following table shows the annual decrease of the public debt at the close of the fiscal year June 30, since 1869:

1869	$ 36,460,779 43
1870	102,643,880 84
1871	94,327,764 84
1872	100,544,491 28
1873	43,667,630 05
1874	4,730,472 41
1875	14,399,514 84
1876	29,249,381 33
Total to June 30	$426,023,915 02

By these payments the yearly interest has been reduced $31,285,281—a very nice sum, surely, to be taken from the annual burdens of our tax-payers. The total debt less cash in the Treasury September 1, $2,095,181,941.14.

NEW YORK, September 6, 1876.

Money closed easy at 1½ on call; prime mercantile paper 3@4. The customs receipts were $273,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $127,000. The clearings were $31,000,000. Sterling was quiet at 485½@485½. Gold was weak, opening at 109⅜ and closing at 109⅛. The borrowing rates were 1 to 2. Loans were also made flat. Governments were steady. Railroad bonds were firm outside of the coal roads. State securities were quiet, with the exception of coal shares, which were weak and lower, and moved independently of the general list. The stock market was firm. New York Central broke down to 25 on a rumor that the company had gone to protest, that Johnston had resigned the presidency, and that a large defalcation had been discovered. These rumors were officially denied, and the stock recovered to 29¼. During the last hour the market was strong, with a decided advance in some leading shares. In telegraph stocks Atlantic and Pacific was exceptionally weak, falling to 15. The most active stocks were Lake Shore, New Jersey Central, Michigan Central, Delaware, Lakawanna & Western and Western Union Telegraph. Excepting coal stocks and Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph, which closed lower than yesterday, the closing prices to-day were ¼@2 per cent. higher than at the close yesterday. The transactions aggregated 169,000 shares, of which 13,000 were Western Union, 3,000 Rock Island, 10,000 St. Pauls, 40,000 Lake Shore, 3,000 Ohios, 22,000 Michigan Central, 26,000 Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, and 40,000 New Jersey Central.

The Syndicate having charge of the United States 4 1-2 per cent. bond negotiation authorize the statement that the total applications for 4 1-2 per cent. bonds here and in Europe amount to close on $40,000,000.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, September 6, 1876.

There is evident signs of improvement in commercial circles, and though the volume of business does not show any very marked increase, and is not at all equal to the expectations of the more sanguine and impatient, it is better than it has been. It will no doubt be some time yet before a complete restoration of business can be reached, but the increasing confidence in commercial credit is growing, and giving a more cheerful tone to all the markets. We notice that nearly all our commercial exchanges, both east and west, speak more encouragingly, and we are in hope that the expectations of those who look on the bright side will be realized.

APPLES—Selling in a jobbing way at $1a1,50 ⅌ bbl for fair to choice.

BUTTER—We can report a steady demand for prime table Butter at the recent advance; 21a23c for prime to choice solid packed in firkins; 24a25c for do. roll and 28a30 for creamery. Common and inferior in good supply and dull.

BROOM CORN—No. 1 hurl, 8½a9; No. 2, do, 7a7½; choice brush that will work up, 6½a6¾; do. covers, 6a6¼; do. covers and insiding, 5½; inferior 4½a5; crocked, 3½a4.

BERRIES—Are about out of season; we continue to quote at 50a75c per bucket.

CHEESE—There is an increasing demand and the market is firmer, but unchanged; prime Ohio Factory, 8½c to the trade, and 1c additional in a jobbing way.

EGGS—Fresh stock in light supply, and with an increasing demand prices are advancing; we now quote at 18a20c.

FLOUR—There is a continued steady local trade in standard brands, but unknown flours are hard to move at any price. New winter wheat flour is commencing to come forward more freely, but as yet consumers generally prefer the old to the new.

Red winter wheat flours	$6,00a6,50 ⅌ bbl.
Amber wheat flours	7,00a7,50 "
Spring wheat flours	5,75a6,25 "

GROCERIES—Trade is moderately active, but the market presents but little that is new or important. The activity in Sugars, it is probable, will subside before long, with the close of the fruit season, near at hand, but an increased trade in Coffee is almost certain and the latter is firmer. Very little doing in Syrups or Molasses, which may be attributed to the abundance of fruits.

GRAIN—The market for Wheat is firmer in sympathy with the advices from Chicago, but there has been no advance here as yet; we continue to quote No. 1 red winter, $1,12a1,15; No. 1 amber, $1,17a1,18. The supply of Oats continues light—unequal to the demand and prices are still tending upward; we now quote at 33a35c, on track, as to quality. The light receipts is attributed in part to the fact that farmers are now busily engaged in seeding. Corn continues quiet and unchanged; Ear on track, 50a52; Shelled, 52a54, the outside figure for prime Yellow. Rye unchanged at 58a60c.

HAY—Loose from country wagons, $9a14, as to quality and condition.

MILL FEED—There is an increasing demand for heavy feed, but no improvement in prices. Bran quoted at $11a12 per ton; seconds and shipstuffs, $13a15; middlings and chopped feed, $19a21.

ONIONS—There has been an increased inquiry, but the supply continues equal to the demand, and prices remain unchanged; $1,50a2 ⅌ bbl, as to quality.

OILS—Trade is fair, with lower prices on lard oils, which we quote as follows: Procter & Gamble's double Extra, 85c; Alexander Extra, 81; No 1, 75c; No. 2, 65; P. & G.'s Extra white Miners oil, 58c60; yellow, 55a57. Linseed oil unchanged at 53 for raw and 58 for boiled. Carbon firm at 23a24c for standard brands.

POTATOES—Irish quoted at $2,25a2,50 ⅌ bbl. in a jobbing way. Sweets quotable at $3a3,50 ⅌ bbl for Baltimores, and $4a4,50 ⅌ bbl for Jerseys.

PROVISIONS—Sugar-cured Hams continue in active demand, and as will be seen, we have again advanced our quotations. Lard is also in fair demand but prices are weak, and the same is true of Mess Pork.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY September 6, 1876.

ARRIVALS.

Following shows the aggregate receipts for the week, as well as those of preceding week also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	383 cars.	499 cars.
Hogs	121 "	101 "
Sheep	82 "	80 "
Total	586 "	680 "

Briggs, Dock & Drum, Commission Merchants or the sale of live stock, at the East Liberty Stock Yards, report the market as follows:

CATTLE.

The run has been unusually light during the past week, particularly of local stock, and with a diminished supply and an increased demand the market has ruled active and strong at an advance of 30 to 40c on all grades. It is true, the volume of business was less than that of last week, but it was in consequence of a scarcity of cattle, not for want of buyers. Even at the advance, cattle have sold just as fast as they arrived. In some instances before they got out of the chutes, and, as we close our report, there is nothing unsold, and there are a number of buyers who have not been able to get all they wanted. The indications at this writing are, that there will be a good market during the balance of the week, that there will be no difficulty in realizing the advance for all that come forward, as the reports from all quarters are favorable.

There was a bunch of choice Southern Ohio steers averaging 1,600 lbs, for which 5¾ was paid, but they were an extra lot of cattle.

QUOTATIONS.

Prime 1,400a1,500 steers	5,25a5,50
Good 1,200a1,300 steers	4,75a5,00
Fair 1,000a1,100 steers	4,00a4,50
Stockers, 800a900 lbs	3,25a3,75
Bulls, Cows and Stags	2,50a3,25

SHEEP.

The arrivals have been light the past week again, and with a good demand the market has ruled strong at an advance of ¼c ⅌ ℔ on the medium grades; prime stock sold readily at the closing prices of last week. As we close our report the pens are cleared and the market is strong, with every indication that current rates will be maintained during the balance of the week.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 95a100 lbs	5,12a5,30
Good 85a90 lbs	4,75a5,00
Good 75a80 lbs	4,25a4,50
Fair 70a75 lbs	3,75a4,00
Common 70a75 lbs	3,00a3,50
Indianas, according to quality	4,00a5,25

HOGS.

The most important event of the past week was the increased arrivals and consequent decline in prices. Grassers, as compared with the date of our last report, are down fully 50c per cwt and 25c on good corn-fed. The average quality has not been equal to that of last week—more rough stock and not so many good corn hogs, but the supply of all grades has been in excess of the demand.

QUOTATIONS.

Philadelphia Hogs	6,30a6,50
Yorkers—cornfed	6,00a6,20
Grassers	5,50a6,00
Roughs	4,50a5,50

All drafts must be attached to the original shipping bill, and in no case drawn for more than two-thirds of stock. Please telegraph amount of draft and car Nos.

FOREIGN DEMAND FOR BEEF.

Watching everything pointing toward the development of the foreign demand for American beef, we copy from the latest issue of the Chicago Live Stock Reporter, speaking of this trade: Western feeders can scarcely watch this comparatively new branch of our trade too closely. If it succeeds, and from present experience it seems likely to, we may look for an increasing demand yearly, and one, too, that ere long may afford feeders all the competition that they can require to sustain the values of fat ripe stock. Our shipments at present are confined to Great Britain, but movements are being made on the Continent of Europe to establish large cattle markets, in which an ocean trade will be mainly cultivated. We have this week received a communication applying for information as to our mode of doing business from Marseilles, where it is intended to establish yards similar to our own, from which to supply France, Germany and other countries with cattle from Northern Africa and the distant prairies of America. Verily, this is an age of progress, and the careful observer at the Union Stock Yards may watch its aggressive march almost as well as any other of the world's industries.

Chicago Lumber Market.

The cargo market was moderately active at unchanged prices. The offerings were not very large, the bulk of the fleet having arrived last week, and small receipts are expected during the remainder of the week, as the wind has been unfavorable to vessels going out. The demand was less urgent and the market easy for some grades, but about a dozen out of 20 cargoes were taken by the local trade. Probably the fleet could have been closed out at a reduction, but sellers, expecting small receipts for a few days, decided to hold the cargoes another day. Piece stuff sold at $7,50a8, and inch at $8a8,75, choice being at $12a14. Lath were steady at $1,15a1,20.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, September 6, 1876.

The market continues unsettled and prices irregular, in consequence of which business is considerably restricted. United certificates were down as low as $3,85 to-day, but advanced subsequently to $3,90a3,92½. There is a disposition manifested to hold back until the committee appointed to ascertain the quantity of oil in pipe line companies' tanks make a report, which, it is understood, will not be made public until Saturday. It appears strange that this committee was not instructed to guage oil in private tanks as well as that held by the pipe lines.

Refined also, continues irregular and unsettled; advices from Philadelphia report re-sales of contracts at 24¼a25, while strongholders are stiff a 26, and it is believed, that as soon as these outside contracts are worked off, 26 will be obtained. Sales were made here yesterday at 21⅛ on cars, to go east. The price to the home trade remains unchanged at 23c with an increasing demand.

Oil Barrels firm with a very fair business, but prices remain as last quoted; countries, $1,30; city make, $1,45a1,50, as to size.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

THE stage of water has not varied much during the past couple of days, the marks last evening showing about 3 inches. The weather yesterday was cloudy and cool, with a drizzling rain at intervals. It is hoped that navigation will soon be resumed.

THE Arlington was to have left Cincinnati last night for New Orleans.

CAPTAIN Jacob Bonner, of Blossomville, has gone to take in the Centennial.

CAPT. I. R. WHITTAKER expects to leave for Philadelphia, next week, to see the big show.

MR. W. W. ACKLEY, one of the Arlington's clerks, left for Cincinnati on Wednesday night.

PILOT THOS. MOORE was married at New Alexandria, W. Va., on Monday, to Miss Minnie Marthens, of this city.

STEVE MCKENNA, a well-known steamboat engineer, was one of the sufferers by the recent conflagration at Mansfield.

MR. J. D. YOUNG, an old and well known steamboat clerk, as well as an old Pittsburgher, is here on a visit from Cincinnati. Mr. Young has been for some years past connected with the Hemingray Glass Works of Cincinnati.

THE Timmie Baker, which exploded her boiler at Trenton, La., on the 1st inst. was a 200 ton sternwheel steamboat, owned by Steele & Co., of Ouachita, and was in command of Capt. E. D. Marble. She was originally built for the Bayous Barthlomew and D'Arbonne.

CAPT. DAVID DEHAVEN, known to almost every steamboatman on the western waters, died at Lincoln, Ill., of typhoid fever, a week or so since, and was buried at Brownsville, Mo., the funeral ceremony being conducted by the Masons, of which order he was a bright and enthusiastic member for over 25 years.

THE Raven, en route from St. Louis to Pomeroy, with a tow of ore, sank a barge of ore on Saturday night, by striking a snag a short distance above Aurora. As soon as it was discovered the barge was sinking it was run on a gravel bank, to prevent it from going out of sight. The Raven is lying at Parker's Landing, above the Newport Waterworks.

THE trip of the Robt. E. Lee, mentioned below, was made on the 27th of October, 1870. The details are as follows:

To	Hours.	Minutes.	Seconds
Carrolton	..	26	25
Hill's Gate	..	54	43

A ST. LOUIS dispatch under date of Sept. 4, says: Business moderately active. The H. C. Yaeger and Atlantic and barges are announced to leave for New Orleans to-morrow. Capt. David H. Silver and wife, Com. John A. Scudder and family and Com. Geo. H. Rea, of the Barge Line, returned from the eastern watering places to-day and yesterday. Capt. S. L. Shallcross, of Louisville, passed through the city to-day, on his way home from Vicksburg, where he has been adjusting a loss for the Louisville Board of Underwriters. Capt. John S. Darragh, of the Belle of Texas, is visiting his family here. There is nothing doing at the ore pile, and very little of anything offering for the Ohio.

CAPT. G. W. ROWLEY, of the U. S. snag-boat E. A. Woodruff, has sent Col. Merrill the following special report of a dangerous bowlder in Burlington Reach: "In removing a snag opposite St. Cloud, W. Va., I discovered a large bowlder in the channel of the river at the place where I removed the log and this is probably what boats have been hitting instead of the log. I worked part of the day yesterday and half of the forenoon to day trying to remove it, but after using all the means at my command was obliged to abandon the job. I left a buoy on it and would suggest that the locality of it be advertised, in order that pilots may know where it is, and run their boats accordingly. It is in Burlington Reach, nearly opposite the St. Cloud brush factory, about 200 feet below the first run below Kountz's Landing, and 200 feet from the Ohio shore."

STEAMERS LOST IN THE MEMPHIS DISTRICT.—Messrs. Ralston & Gronauer, U. S. Inspector of the Memphis District, furnish to the Memphis Appeal the following details of accidents to steamers within that District within the past twelve months. There were only eight accidents, resulting in total losses, and involving a pecuniary loss in the aggregate of $308,500. In all these there were only two or three lives lost, which is a remarkable showing compared with the accidents of previous years. On September 7, 1875, the Indiana, Capt. W. L. Rusk, from Cincinnati, en route to New Orleans, grounded and broke in two at a point near Chicot City, Arkansas. Loss in boat and cargo, $100,000; mostly covered by insurance. On December 27, 1865, the Minneola, Capt. Shank, from Cincinnati to Memphis, struck a hidden obstruction about 25 miles above Memphis, breaking to pieces, and a total loss. Two or three lives were lost, being from among the deck passengers. Loss in boat and cargo, $59,000; mostly covered by insurance. December 26, 1875, the Fort Gibson, Capt. Ed. Newland, from Memphis to Pine Bluff, struck a rock-heap in Arkansas River; a total wreck. Loss to boat and cargo, $20,000. Boat and cargo partly insured, but suits are now pending in Cincinnati courts to recover $4,000 of the insurance money. On Jan. 17, 1876, the Bluff City, Capt. ——, sunk in Black River. Loss on boat and cargo, $4,500. On Feb. 1, 1876, the Rhoda, Capt. ——, running between Helena and St. Francis River, struck a snag and sunk in the Mississippi River, a few miles above Helena, and was a total loss. Loss to boat and cargo, $2,000. On Feb. 13, 1876, the City of Quincy, Capt. Jacobs, en route from New Orleans to St. Louis, struck a snag near Ship Island, about 70 miles below this port, resulting in a total loss of the boat, but a great amount of her freight, which consisted mainly of sugar and molasses, was seven. Loss of boat and cargo, $90,000. On April 16, 1876, the Legal Tender, Capt. Ed. Nowland struck a snag in Arkansas River, and broke in two. A good deal of her furniture, cabin outfit, machinery, and some of her freight was saved. Loss in boat and cargo, $10,000. On June 14, 1876, the Shippers' Own, running between Cairo and Nashville, was struck at Cairo by collision with the Grand Tower, of the St. Louis and Vicksburg Packet Line. Loss in boat and cargo, $23,000.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ PROFESSIONAL NOTICE.

Drs. Jordan and Davieson

Principals of the Institution of Anatomy, 807 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Lecturers on Anatomy, Physiology and Science, inform their friends and patients that they have again opened a branch office for the practice of their profession at No. 2 EIGHTH STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA., where one of the firm may be confidentially consulted, more especially in all those cases of diseases and debility, for the treatment of which they are so justly celebrated. It is too well known that hundreds, nay thousands suffer from the effects of early indiscretion and seek in vain for relief, for none but the educated physician who has made these subjects a specialty is likely to succeed in restoring the patient to health and strength. To all such Drs. Jordan and Davieson offer certain and speedy relief, and undertake no cases but those in which they are able to guarantee a safe, certain and permanent cure. Their important Medical Work may be had from their office, No. 2 Eighth street, on receipt of 25 cents, and also as usual from their head establishment, 1625 Filbert street, Philadelphia. Hours of consultation from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M., and from 5 P. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. Every case is strictly confidential. d&S

A Soldier's Orphan.

Grand Army Post No. 60, appeals to Masons and Odd Fellows for information of a soldier named Dunham, probably an officer, who was killed early in the late war, whose body was brought home and buried either with Masonic or Odd Fellow's honors. He enlisted from some town not very far from Pittsburgh or Allegheny, and resided near a glass factory. This meager data is all that is now known as to the parentage of an orphan girl, the daughter of this soldier, and this embraces all she can remember pertaining to her identity. It is desired to place her in an orphan school. Any comrade of Dunham, either in a Western Pennsylvania or Eastern Ohio regiment, will confer a favor by addressing Chill W. Hazzard, Chairman of Committee on Education, G. A. R., Monongahela City, Pa.

HIGH SCHOOL MATTERS.

The Vacant Professorship Not Permanently Disposed of Yet.

The vacancy occasioned in the High School faculty by the death of Professor Bancroft has not been permanently filled yet by the High School Committee. A meeting for the purpose was held on Tuesday, but did not result in anything more than arranging the matter temporarily. Prof. P. S. Bancroft, a brother of the deceased Professor, was elected temporarily to the chair of Pure Mathematics, and Prof Wood was elevated to the chair of Applied Mathematics.

Another meeting of the committee will be held on Saturday afternoon to further consider the matter. There are a host of applicants for the vacancy.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Mr M B. Hartzell

For several days past, it is pretty generally known, Mr. M. B. Hartzell, father of Major Will. M. Hartzell, Chief of Police, had been lying dangerously ill at his residence on the South Side. His many friends will be further pained to learn of his death, which took place shortly after two o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Hartzell was born in Westmoreland county in 1807, and was therefore in his sixty-ninth year. He came here with his father about thirty years ago, and engaged in the business of hatter. Owing to ill health he was obliged to relinquish that occupation, and engaged in other pursuits. He was for several years tipstave of the Common Pleas Court, and still held the position at the time of his death. He was a member and a deacon of Grace Lutheran church, South Side. His kindly, cordial, Christian disposition made him hosts of friends. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

THE VICTORY IN VERMONT.

How it Was Received in Local Political Circles Yesterday

It was plainly perceptible yesterday, in our local political circles, that the Republicans had received good news. They all seemed to be in a cheerful, not to say vivacious, frame of mind, notwithstanding the depressing influences of the weather. The echo from the thunder of the guns in Vermont evidently was as sweet music to their ears, and mutual congratulations were the order of the day. The attendance of visitors at Republican headquarters was considerably increased, and every countenance wore a smile of exultation, as though life had put on new charms. The victory seemed to have gone beyond the expectations of the most sanguine, and the best posted frankly admitted that the Vermont men had done better than was expected of them in any quarter. Judging from the feeling manifested yesterday, it will only require a good report from Maine next week to awaken an enthusiasm that will make the remainder of the canvass in this locality as warm and spirited as in the palmiest of other days.

WATER TAXES.

Abatements in Allegheny—Condition of the Water Appropriation.

At the session of the Allegheny Water Committee last night Messrs Young & Booth, brewers, were allowed an exoneration of $45 on their water tax, making the yearly assessment $235. A similar courtesy was extended to the Germania Garden, where the rent was reduced from $60 to $40. In the case of Messrs. Lindsay & McCutcheon, whose rolling mill in the Fifth ward was recently destroyed by fire, it was decided to allow them to use city water at present for $25 a month, but the tax is to be increased as the consumption increases.

Controller Brown reported the condition of the Water Committee's appropriation to be as follows:

Balance to credit of Appr't'n....	$ 3,796 71
Annual appropriation............	50,000 00
Total........................	$53,796 71
Amount expended..............	34,286 84
Balance on hand..............	$19,509 87

The August pay-roll, amounting to $1,310.72, and bills footing up about $2,100 were approved and ordered to be paid. Twenty-one petitions for exonerations from the payment of water tax were disposed of, after which the committee adjourned.

A FIFTH AVENUE ROW.

Some of the Effects of the "Lady Waiter" Saloons.

A short time ago it was a "waiter girl" beer saloon on the Post Office side of Fifth avenue where a big row occurred every other night. Now greater attractions seem to have transferred the mob element to the other side of the street.

Just about 12 o'clock last night, a first-class rumpus was kicked up in the "White House" saloon, in the department where the girls dish out the beer. Officer Pat. Kennedy being near by rushed in to quell the disturbance, when the door was immediately closed and the officer overpowered by a set of ruffians who commenced bombarding him, as well as each other, with beer glasses, chairs and other like weapons of war. Another officer heard the row, and immediately rapped and sounded his whistle for aid. Two or three patrolmen immediately responded, but were refused admittance. Other raps and whistles were given, and within five minutes Lieutenants Hagar and Cronin and twenty-five or thirty patrolmen were on hand. It perhaps not being thought advisable to longer deny them admittance, they rushed in without difficulty, and in about thirty seconds the ruffianly rioters found that they had counted without the cost. The principals in the row, Wm. Lester, J. C. Merrimack, S. B. Carter and Henry Siebold, were conveyed to the station house, all with their clothing literally torn from their backs, and blood gushing from innumerable wounds. A cursory examination of their injuries before committal displayed no dangerous, though two had what may prove serious wounds. Officer Kennedy will no doubt be compelled to lay off for a few days. It is but justice to Mr. Lawrence Sproal to say that it was not he who closed the door.

A WOMAN'S VENGEANCE.

A Husband's Faithlessness and a Wife's Anger—A Summer Trip's End.

A Twelfth ward family's domestic peace is ended, at least until the husband by a long penance in sackcloth and ashes has mollified his vengeful spouse. The story might have been a tragedy, but for the timely interference of an officer.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon policeman Lyons was passing along Twenty-eighth street, when at the corner of that thoroughfare he was attracted by the screams of a girl. He hastened to the scene and found a girl lying under a wagon with a woman pounding her with might and main. He arrested both and took them to the Twelfth ward Station House. There the story told was about this:

The woman is the wife of a man in comfortable circumstances living in the neighborhood, and has been away on a summer trip east. Yesterday she returned rather unexpectedly and near the depot happened to meet a friend, who told her to hurry home, as she was needed there, and gave her an intimation of the trouble. Reaching the house, the wife found it locked, but with the assistance of a friend got in the back way, through the cellar. Going to her room up stairs, she found that locked also. With assistance she got into the next room, and broke open a door leading into her bed room. There she found her husband, and the girl in question. She immediately went for the girl, threw her down stairs, and into the back yard, beating her vigorously. It was while attempting to escape from the irate wife that the girl took refuge, or was knocked under the wagon by the officer. The girl cried bitterly, claiming that she had been inveigled into the trap much against her wishes, and was overwhelmed with shame. The wife insisted that she would have killed the girl had she not been interfered with, and would yet if she was not locked up. As it required an information to be made in the case, before the Station House officer could lock her up, she was let go, the wife, however, vowing that she would yet have vengeance. The affair created considerable excitement in the neighborhood, and will possibly yet furnish another item.

EXPOSITION ENTRIES.

List of Exhibitors at the Tradesmen's Industrial Institute—Most of Them From Pittsburgh and Allegheny—Effect of the Centennial—Local Talent in the Art Gallery—The Marriage Ceremony To-Morrow Night.

The appended list of entries at the second exposition of the Tradesmen's Industrial Institute is correct so far as shown by the books, but the latter are not yet complete, and therefore the list is only partial, but still it embraces a large majority of the entries. Its incompleteness is owing to the negligence of some of the exhibitors, who have entered articles in a certain class without informing the clerk what prize in that class they desire to compete for. An analysis of the list will show that the exhibitors are nearly all from Pittsburgh and Allegheny City. The number from other localities is comparatively small. This is easily understood and at the same time discloses the reason why the exposition is not as great a success this year as it was last. All local enterprises of this character have been largely overshadowed by the Centennial Exposition, and parties who have anything they desire to submit to the inspection of the public have availed themselves of the greater advantages and inducements at Philadelphia. Still, our own exposition is not by any means a failure. It embraces many features of special interest, chief among which are the Art Gallery and Floral Hall, to which no reference is contained in the list of entries, which is as follows:

THE ART GALLERY.

The catalogue of paintings in the Art Gallery has been completed and will be ready for distribution this morning. The number of pictures that adorn the walls is two hundred and seventy-one, supplemented with thirteen pieces of statuary, noticeable among which is Algeo's bust of John McKee. Among the Pittsburgh artists represented in the collection are Franz Lohman, Leon Long, Martin Leisser, Jasper Lawman, George Hetzel, Joseph Johns, Miss M. M. Murtland, W. W. Charles, Miss A. C. Way, Miss E. C. Oakley, Addie H. White, Trevor McClurg, John Earle, J. M. Taylor, T. B. Craig, J. R. Woodwell, C. M. Johns, A. S. Wall, Jennie Chambers, Paul J. Carson, Mrs. W. J. Meek, Fritz Mayer, and others.

There is no lagging in the preparations for the North German wedding on Friday night. The mechanics engaged in the construction of the house, which will be a perfect fac simile of the dwellings of the Fatherland, worked all of last night. To lessen the number that would gather at the ticket office window on that occasion, the managers announce that tickets of admission will be sold at Hale's music store, on Smithfield street, and at McDonald's confectionery, on Wood street, from to-day.

There have already been a few entries for the dog and poultry show. Among the seventy-five canines that are on the present list, there is a young purp only 2½ months old, which has a mane like a horse.

The programme of selections to be performed to-day by the Great Western Band is as follows:

1. March Industrie.....................A. Trapp
2. Scotch Overture........................Grosse
3. Waltz—"Thousand One Night"..........Strauss
4. Red Hot...........................Ed. Beyer
5. Quickstep—"Come where my love lies Dreaming"....................S. C. Foster

PART II.

6. Pot Porri—Opera Martha...............Flotow
7. Waltz—"Vienna Boods"..................Strauss
8. Grand Concert Medley................Downing
9. Polka Mazourka....................Doc. Rohr
10. Galop Exposition.....................Zichoff

A TROT AND A PACE.

Yesterday's Races at Friendship Park—A Wet Day and a Dry Trot—Ditto the Pace.

It is exceedingly unfortunate that the lovers of equine sports allow themselves to be deterred from going out to Friendship Park, because Jupiter Pluvius sees fit to give us a heavy sprinkle of rain down on the lower plateau. It will be remembered that one day last week it rained vigorously "down town," just about the time persons were thinking of starting for Friendship, while it did not sprinkle enough at the latter place to lay the dust. We advised our readers the next day to take the risks, and go out in any event, even if the showering dampness down here did cause the hoisting of umbrellas and the lowering of spirits. Yesterday's result again was evidence that the advice was good. While it commenced raining in the lower portions of the city about half-past 12 o'clock, and continued with scarcely any intermission all afternoon and evening, the Park and neighborhood was scarcely sprinkled—by either rain or spectators.

The thinness of the gate receipts may possibly have had something to do with the attenuated result of the races; but at any rate both the trot and the pace—especially the former—were exceedingly tame.

The trot was won by Luretta in three straight heats in no remarkably good time, and her competitors maintained throughout the positions they assumed in the first heat. Following are the horses that were entered, their owners, and a summary of the race:

"Luretta," by James C. Pearson........1 1 1
b. m. "Annie," by W. Dawson.........2 2 2
b. s. "Sprightly," by W. Wing..........4 4 4
br. m. "Kitty, R.," by A. M. Floyd....3 3 3
Time, 2:58; 2:52; 2:54½.

The pace was but little better in interest but considerably better in time. "Lady Hafer," won easily in three straight heats. There were but two contestants, "Lady Hafer," entered by Jacob Borne, and "Bay Jack," by —— Morrison. The time was 2:41, 2:45 and 2:49.

This thing of people staying away on account of a little down-town sprinkle is going to make the thing monotonous after a while. Before the next race comes off it would be well to make special arrangements to have Old Sol in a smiling mood all over.

Court Brevities.

TO-DAY, the 7th, was the day fixed for the execution of Green, who was convicted of the murder of Marshall, at Mansfield. The case having been taken up to the Supreme Court, the Governor's warrant was returned and the execution stayed.

APPLICATION was made in Common Pleas No. 1, yesterday, for the appointment of a Register in the Eleventh ward, it having been discovered that David Dion, the regular elected Register, was on a visit to the country, and there was no one authorized to register voting. Judge Collins declined to make the appointment unless a petition signed by citizens of the ward was presented. It was thought this would require too much time, and no appointment was made.

THOMAS CROFT, a constable of the borough of Etna, instituted suit in the Common Pleas Court No. 1 to recover damages from J. S. Ramage for alleged false arrest and imprisonment. The plaintiff alleges that Ramage made an information before Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, charging him with misdemeanor, and that the charge was malicious and without foundation. He claims damages in the sum of five thousand dollars.

MARGARET O'NEILL, committed to the Work House by Mayor McCarthy for six months, on a charge of disorderly conduct, was brought before Judge Collier, yesterday, on a writ of habeas corpus, and the case reviewed on a certiorari. She claimed that her commitment was illegal. On the transcript was written the words, "second offense," but a review of the evidence failed to show that it was other than the first offense, and as a party cannot be committed for so a long a term on the first offente, the Court ordered her discharge.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The First Day's Session—Getting Under Way.

The members of the Pittsburgh Annual Conference of the Methodist Church convened in the Bellevue Methodist church at nine o'clock yesterday morning, President T. H. Colhouer in the chair. Opening devotional services were conducted by Drs. Collier and Laishley. This is the forty-second session of this Conference. About one hundred persons are entitled to seats as members.

This church being non-Episcopal, and republican in government, the Conference is composed of an equal number of ministers and laymen. The time of daily session was fixed as follows: Morning session, from 8:30 to 1:30; afternoon session, from 1:30 to 5:00.

Pastor A. D. Brown and Representative James Irwin and Dr. Collier were elected a Committee on Pulpit Services during this session.

President Colhouer read his annual report of his executive doings during the past year. Several ministers were received and several dismissed during the year, official visits were made, &c. Report was adopted.

Rev. Halliday, pastor of P. church, and Rev. Mechem, pastor of M. E. church Bellevue, were introduced and given honorary seats. Revs. John Gregory and J. H. Hull were elected Secretaries. Prayer by E. A. Brindley. Adjourned.

The afternoon session opened with devotions conducted by Rev. H. Palmer. On motion, it was resolved that the President of the Conference shall not be required to travel the district the coming year.

Pastoral reports were resumed, and with a few exceptions reported good success during the year.

T. H. Colhouer was re-elected President, Dr. J. Cowl and J. H. Hull, minister, and John Munden and J. I. Robinson, laymen, Committee on Pastoral Relations.

The Faculty of Instruction, was by vote of conference constituted the Committee on Itinerancy and Orders for this session.

Prof. McKeever, formerly of Pittsburgh, now of the faculty of Adrian College, Michigan, was introduced and voted an honorary seat in the conference. Adjourned after prayer by Dr. McKeever.

White Robed Throng at Ellanova, &c., &c.

The great depression in the thermometer that has prevailed for a few days having determined some of the guests at Ellanova Springs, (Haysville,) to return to their own firesides, their approaching departure was the occasion for a masquerade, given on Tuesday evening in the large dining hall of the Ellanova Hotel. The ladies and gentlemen who participated in the melancholy leave-taking, were robed alike in white flowing oriental drapery, and wore masks, and comical linen caps. The disguise was complete. No one in the dance could tell with whom he or she was mated. Old and young, male and female, were among the ghastly, but joyous throng and all seemed to enjoy the alternation of terpsichorean and social episodes, the social part consisting of grotesque attitude and comic gesticulation; after a time the confinement of the respiratory organs becoming irksome the masks were doffed and the whole party became mutually recognizable. The whole affair was very enjoyable. The numerous guests of the Ellanova House have found it a most agreeable and comfortable summer resort; the air and water very pure, the landlord Col. Robinson and his family as kind as the most fastidious could wish, the House large, with spacious halls extending quite through and across its length and breadth, and wide verandahs, or pavillions, projecting from the first and second stories and stretching around three sides of the building, affording ample space for disporting children or promenading adults, and the sleeping chambers and their furnishment surpassingly good and comfortable. We shall be surprised if many families do not avail themselves of the fine accommodations, easy access and low charges of this favorite Summer and convert it into an equally popular Winter resort.

The Ministerial Association.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

One or two of the daily papers in reporting the doings of this association, have made Rev. Mr. Shields say that "Rev. Mr. Annan was almost killed by walking to Millvale and back on the Sabbath to fill an appointment to preach for him (Shields)." Please say in your valuable paper that this statement is without the shadow of foundation in fact. On the contrary, I greatly enjoyed both the preaching and the walk, and never felt better on a Sabbath evening in all my life, not now a very short one.

GEORGE RUSSELL, for indecent exposure of his person, was yesterday sent to the Workhouse for thirty days by 'Squire Mitchell.

JOHN MURRAY, living on Spring alley, has made information before 'Squire O'Donnell against Libby Deckers for keeping a disorderly house on Liberty street, opposite the Union Depot. Libby was held for a further hearing.

She promptly lodged an information before Alderman Jack Edgar, of Allegheny, against Albetz, but he was suddenly seized with a desire to see the Centennial. He departed and did not return until Tuesday. Yesterday he was arrested and committed to jail for a hearing to-morrow.

Life Insurance.

Before insuring your life, examine the merits of the CONVERTIBLE LIFE POLICY of the United States Life Insurance Company of New York, which presents features suited to all ages and conditions. Full particulars given by

J. PALMER O'NEIL, Manager,
66 Fifth avenue.

Wedding Presents.

The greatest variety in the city at McFadden's, 53 Fifth avenue, where Harry Algeo, the popular salesman and unequalled engraver, hopes to meet his old friends, and especially delights in showing the ladies the latest novelties in the jewelry or silver line.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

"Taming a Goose" and "The Molly Maguires" constitute an entertainment that lasts fully three hours. The former is chiefly musical and the latter principally sensational. Between the two a very pleasant evening can be spent.

The box office opens this morning for the sale of seats to the performance next week of "Conscience," in which Kate Claxton appears as the leading character. She is said to be an actress, of great histrionic talent, and the character of Constance Harewood gives her a fine opportunity to display it.

Trimble's Varieties.

At this theatre the company has been playing to a good business ever since the opening night, and the prospects are that the management will have nothing to complain of in the way of a lack of profitable audiences, particularly of the present standard of excellence is maintained.

The Second Excursion.

Smythe's second excursion to the Centennial and Cape May will leave the Union depot next Monday morning at half past nine o'clock. This time the rate of passage will be but $9. The first, which is not yet over, is an undoubted success, and the second will, from present indications, be the same. Tickets can be bought at the Union depot, and at the P. R. R. ticket office, corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.

Dramatic Notes.

STOCKWELL'S face is as familiar as in days of yore.

HICKS' summer vacation has added to his avoirdupois.

MR. H. W. WILLIAMS will, it is said, reopen the Fifth Avenue Comedy Theatre on the 18th inst.

CROMPTON'S physiognomy hardly looks as natural in the box office as on the stage. But of course it is.

MR. M. W. CANNING arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday, and will now give his close personal attention to the completion of the improvements in progress at Library Hall.

MR. GOTTHOLD is indulging in pleasurable anticipations regarding Kate Claxton's visit next week. Quite naturally he wants it to benefit himself and the public too, and we hope it will do both.

LUTHER IN PHILADELPHIA.

A Correspondent's Gossip About One of Our Leading Oarsmen.

The correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Philadelphia about Luther's race with Higgins, gives this gossip concerning Luther and Morris, who are numbered among our leading local scullers: "Luther is an iron puddler, five feet ten or more in heighth, of fair but not conspicuous depth of chest, slim arms, thin shoulders and good legs. His gritty face was trained very fine and he looked fit to race for his life. A townsman of his here says that though he and Morris belong to the same club a strong jealousy exists between them; that each has his partisans, that Morris does not know Luther's possibilities, that he purposely broke up the Pittsburgh four-oared crew so as to row single, that he was only feeling Luther yesterday to get his measure, and certainly to the spectators he did not seem doing his all, that up their way Luther has credit for great endurance, and his friends say he can beat anybody in the world in a ten mile race, and that Morris was only lying off yesterday for a match to get this money from him, but if he can beat him it looks as if it would be better to take the $800 now if he can get them than to foolishly procrastinate, especially now that Higgins and all the Thames scullers are out of the final race. Still there are plenty more good ones here, and the $800 may go a long way before it ever sees Pittsburgh.
